Co-sponsored with the Department of History

Dr. Hermann Beck
Professor of History

will present a talk on

The Nazi Takeover in a New Light:
A Re-Interpretation of the Seizure of Power in 1933

This talk focuses on the change in the German political climate soon after Hitler became Chancellor on January 30, 1933 and the Nazi regime's upsurge in popularity, coupled with its use of terror against all opponents. The explosion of anti-Semitic violence, the reaction of German elites to open aggression against the Jewish population, and the absence of protest were ominous signs of what was to come.
